

Putney estate agents, Brinkley's takes care.

Commenting on reports that house prices are continuing to wane, Brinkley's Estate Agents, which has branches in Putney, Wimbledon Hill and Wimbledon Park, says that it will continue to do its best for its clients

Speaking in a Bloomberg television interview, Kate Barker, a former Bank of England policy-maker said that, "I find it hard to see house prices picking up any time soon." She continued, saying, "My general expectation is they may drift a little bit lower this year. But I wouldn't be talking about a big fall."

Robert Brinkley, CEO of Brinkley's Estate Agents responded by saying that, "although we cannot accurately predict how the market will behave, this year, we can assure our clients that we will always act responsibly in getting the best price for their property."
