

Wimbledon estate agents, Brinkley's asks to buy or not to buy?

According to Brinkley's Estate Agents, which has branches in Putney, Wimbledon Hill and Wimbledon Park, that is, indeed, the question.

A recent news report suggested that, when it comes to the 'buy or rent' question, the UK is tending towards the European point of view. More and more people are choosing to rent rather than buy, going against the traditional investment benefits of 'bricks and mortar'.

The trend is mainly attributed to affordability and the availability of mortgages, especially for first-time-buyers. Moreover, in these uncertain times some think it is better to put the mortgage off until the market and economy stabilises.

Luckily, Brinkley's Estate Agents is finding that prices in SW London have remained relatively stable over the last few years, which is good news for vendors as well as those buying to let.

Robert Brinkley, CEO of Brinkley's Estate Agents said, "With all the bank holiday's we've had recently, we have seen an increase in house-buyers in our branches, looking for mid- to high-end properties. Meanwhile, Landlords can be assured that we always have a long list of applicants looking for properties, happy to take advantage of our, no fees for tenants, policy."
